

Career Readiness Certificate

Numerous surveys have demonstrated a gap between the current workforce and the basic skills needs of employers. To reduce the cost of remedial training and lost efficiency, more employers are implementing pre-employment assessments to identify these skills prior to hiring.

What is a Career Readiness Certificate (CRC)?

A CRC is a credential based upon the WorkKeys® assessments that substantiate to employers that an individual possesses the basic workplace skills required for 21st century jobs.

Getting a CRC will allow an individual to show prospective employers that he or she possesses the basic skills they are seeking.

Even if an individual has a high school diploma (or GED) or a post secondary degree, the CRC further verifies that he or she can handle tasks that are common and vital in today's workplaces -such as finding information, reading instructions and directions, and working with figures.

What are the target areas and levels of a Career Readiness Certificate?

The CRC focuses on three targeted skills:

- Reading for Information
- Applied Mathematics
- Locating Information

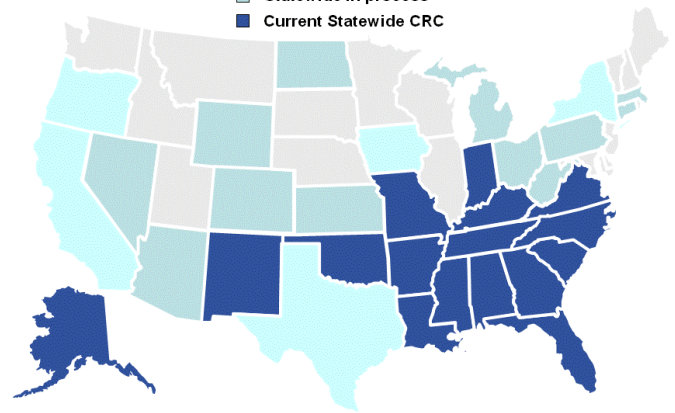

Reading for Information—comprehending work-related reading materials, from memos and bulletins to policy manuals and governmental regulations.

Applied Mathematics—applying mathematical reasoning to work-related problems.

Locating Information—using information from such materials as diagrams, floor plans, tables, forms, graphs, and charts.

Statewide CRC Efforts

- Regional CRC usage
- Statewide in process
- Current Statewide CRC

Career Readiness Certificates (CRC) are becoming widely accepted as a standard for documenting essential skill sets of the 21st Century workforce.

- Job seeker obtains a nationally recognized certificate

What systems are used to help potential employees qualify for the Career Readiness Certificate?

For individuals who do not initially achieve the CRC, assessment results will indicate the targeted training needed to achieve the skill levels necessary to obtain a certificate. Participating Community & Junior Colleges and WIN Job Centers will assist those individuals with increasing their skill levels through the use of KeyTrain[®] software, the curriculum for WorkKeys. You can get started on your certification by visiting one of the participating sites throughout the state.

What is WorkKeys?

The WorkKeys Job Skills assessment system is a product of ACT, Inc., the developer of the ACT Assessment that is commonly used for college entrance testing. The WorkKeys Employment System is a comprehensive procedure for measuring, communicating and improving the common skills required for success in the workplace.

Skill Area	Bronze	Silver	Gold
Workplace Documents	3	4	5
Applied Mathematics	3	4	5
Graphic Literacy	3	4	5

WHAT IS KEYTRAIN?

A product of Thinking Media, KeyTrain is a targeted curriculum written specifically to help people master the applied workplace skills as defined by WorkKeys[®]. As an ACT Level 1 publisher, KeyTrain provides curriculum that is based on the WorkKeys targets for instruction and meets ACT's quality standards.

KeyTrain includes instruction for all levels of WorkKeys and pre-WorkKeys skills. It is available via Internet, CD, or print versions. The Internet and CD versions include a powerful management and student tracking system that allows for easy administration and detailed reporting of students' progress in the program.

The KeyTrain program incorporates a full natural voice soundtrack for improved focus and concentration, online access to the WorkKeys Occupational Profile Database, quick-assignment features based on Career Readiness Certificates or job profiles, pre- and post-quizzes, and many other useful features.

Three Major components make up the system:

Job profiling – Identifies the skill levels required to effectively perform the job.

Skill Assessment – Measures the current skill level of individuals

Instructional support – provides tools educators and trainers need to help individuals in improving their skill level.
